SAT[®] vs ACT[®]

Which test is right for you?

	SAT [®]	ACT [®]
QUESTIONS	SAT questions are trickier and require more time to understand	ACT questions tend to be more straightforward
VOCABULARY	The SAT has stronger emphasis on vocabulary in context	If vocabulary isn't your thing, you may do better on the ACT
SCIENCE	If you're a true science-phobe the SAT might be a better fit	The ACT has a science section that tests your critical thinking skills
MATH	Both tests now have the SAME advanced math concepts Arithmetic, Algebra I & II, Geometry & Trigonometry
TOOLS	You do NOT get a calculator on all the math questions on the SAT	You get a calculator on all the math questions on the ACT
ESSAY	Both essays are optional
SCORES	The SAT is scored on a scale of 400-1600	The ACT is scored on a scale of 1-36

Choosing the right test is an extremely important part of the college admissions process. Still not sure which test is best for you? You have some options. Start your test prep journey by taking a free practice test for both SAT and ACT.

Take your free SAT Practice Test! The SAT exam is a measure of the critical thinking skills you'll need for academic success in college. The SAT assesses how well you analyze and solve problems; skills you learned in school that you'll need in college. The SAT is typically taken by high school juniors and seniors. Each section of the SAT is scored on a scale of 200-800, with two writing subscores for multiple-choice and the essay. Like the SAT, the ACT exam is a national college-readiness exam. Almost every college uses ACT scores in their admissions process. In addition to the importance for admission, taking the ACT may open the door to scholarships or other financial aid that can make college more affordable. Please make sure you attend school on Wednesday February 20th rested, on time and ready to take the ACT! Click here for a list of ACT Exam preparation resources. Practice SAT/ACT.
